

The 'AGENT SMITH' effect

There wouldn't be a single 'awake' person today who hasn't experienced the wrath of a 'sheeple' – 'normie' – 'brain-dead' – 'asleep' ... etc person who they've tried, without any success, to 'wake up' to what appears to be going on in the world today.

To make things worse, a lot of these people were those who, (we thought), was close to us – friends, colleagues, partners, spouses – even family - who we thought that, even if they didn't agree with our thoughts, they would at least give us the time of day and we'd agree to disagree and still be friends.

To our surprise, instead of listening and considering what we had to say, they shot us down in flames, ridiculed us, called us 'conspiracy theorists', (which, in their eyes, seems to make inferior to pond life), ignored what we had to say ran off and got themselves jabbed, many times, and continued to wear face masks even though they didn't have to.

They willingly isolated from us like WE had some kind of contagion that they was going to get from US – despite the obvious reality was that the only people getting sick was those who had repeatedly chosen to get something squirted into them by people they still don't know who they was.

And they refused to even consider that the two was related in some way – and still don't.

Then they ostracised us as if we was lepers – as if WE were anything other than a person they'd know for many years or even related to and who was showing NO 'symptoms' of anything except common sense.

And why – because the main stream media made out the cause of the 'spread' in the virus that didn't exist was caused by 'unvaccinated' people.

Like a person who does not have anything can give what they don't have to someone else. (To overcome the obvious stupidity of this the media decided to invent that a person could be infected and infect others even if they was symptom-free.

And the f-tards fell for it.)

All without a whit of research or even consideration of what it was we was trying to discuss.

All we had to do was raise the subject and we was switched off like a light.

And it dawned on us – we thought they was our friends and would be seeking the same outcome as us.

We soon found out, from bitter experience, the relationship we thought we had with them is over – especially if we didn't capitulate to demands that THEY might make about surrendering to queuing up ourselves for poison to be injected into us along with themselves and their families to protect themselves against a 'virus' that even early on in the shit-show was confirmed never to have been identified that it even existed.

In short, they wanted us to be like 'them' – and that we refused to based on our own opinions based on the same information they hadn't considered was not acceptable to them.

It set us apart from the crowd – and they didn't like it.

We'd used our sovereign right of saying 'NO' to set ourselves apart from their club of mindless zombies – they realised this and something in their heads couldn't cope with the realisation.

More on that later ...

We, for our part, decided they're such dumb-bots that their ignorance, on one hand, coupled with their almost hysterical putting us and our ideas down had pretty much destroyed any relationship we had with them – in many cases at the expense of family units.

We couldn't understand, even with so much information now coming on social media how they could possibly not 'get' what it was we were trying to warn them about.

WE knew - we're right, they're not – and we can prove it – but they STILL didn't want to know and continued to religiously queue themselves up for the next booster, now up to number 5 in some places.

And, to our complete amazement, a lot still do – even though there's no reason to any more.

We marvel, that these are not people we would have imagined could be so stupid. Quite the opposite. How could they not see what we see? – we saw even 3 years ago, as clear as day.

For example, how can people be so stupid to be by themselves in a car wearing a facemask?

How could it be that we all got it so wrong, (about them)?

How can they think so little of US, their real friends, who are only trying to help them? (Mind you, if they had just ONE jab, it was probably too late).

How can they not only IGNORE what it is we're saying and can, in many cases PROVE, that they continue down their path of destruction, like a lemming, and take our relationship with them?

this is a lemming looking for a cliff

Maybe here's an answer – it arrived in my inbox the other day and after a couple of days mulling over it's contents it seems to make a lot of sense.

Consider – think about the people described above.

What will they have in common?

I'd suggest these are the same people who live with and 'social' media platforms, MSM, MSM News, staring into mobile phones all day and posting photos of themselves, food, flowers and things advertised on Facebook or things they've just bought to make themselves look prettier (in their minds).

Let's face it if you're a fat pig you're going to be a fat pig no matter what you're wearing) – and that's if they're not in front of a TV watching tonight's drivel 'program'.

And while most awake people are now aware about this 'programming' – we probably thought it was just about getting us to buy things we don't want or need and checking out our personal data for some nefarious purpose that might arise in the future.

And we're probably right about that, too.

But, what if it's more than that?

What if it's about turning every person who glares into a mobile phone or TV or reads MSM reports online or on paper into Manchurian candidates – who have been 'programmed' to protect the 'matrix'.

These people – and we're talking about over half the world's population here – are indeed brain-dead zombies – in every meaning of the description.

Any research into mind-control will quickly reveal that the movie the 'Manchurian Candidate' was a documentary – one of many created by film-makers to normalise brain-dead behaviour.

This research will soon lead you to MK Ultra during the 1950's – which was enormously successful. So much so that it was closed-down because it was feared it was TOO dangerous.

We're told all records was ordered to be destroyed – if you want to believe that 10 years-worth of successful research into mind-control was fed through the shredder then you probably believe the tooth-fairy exists.

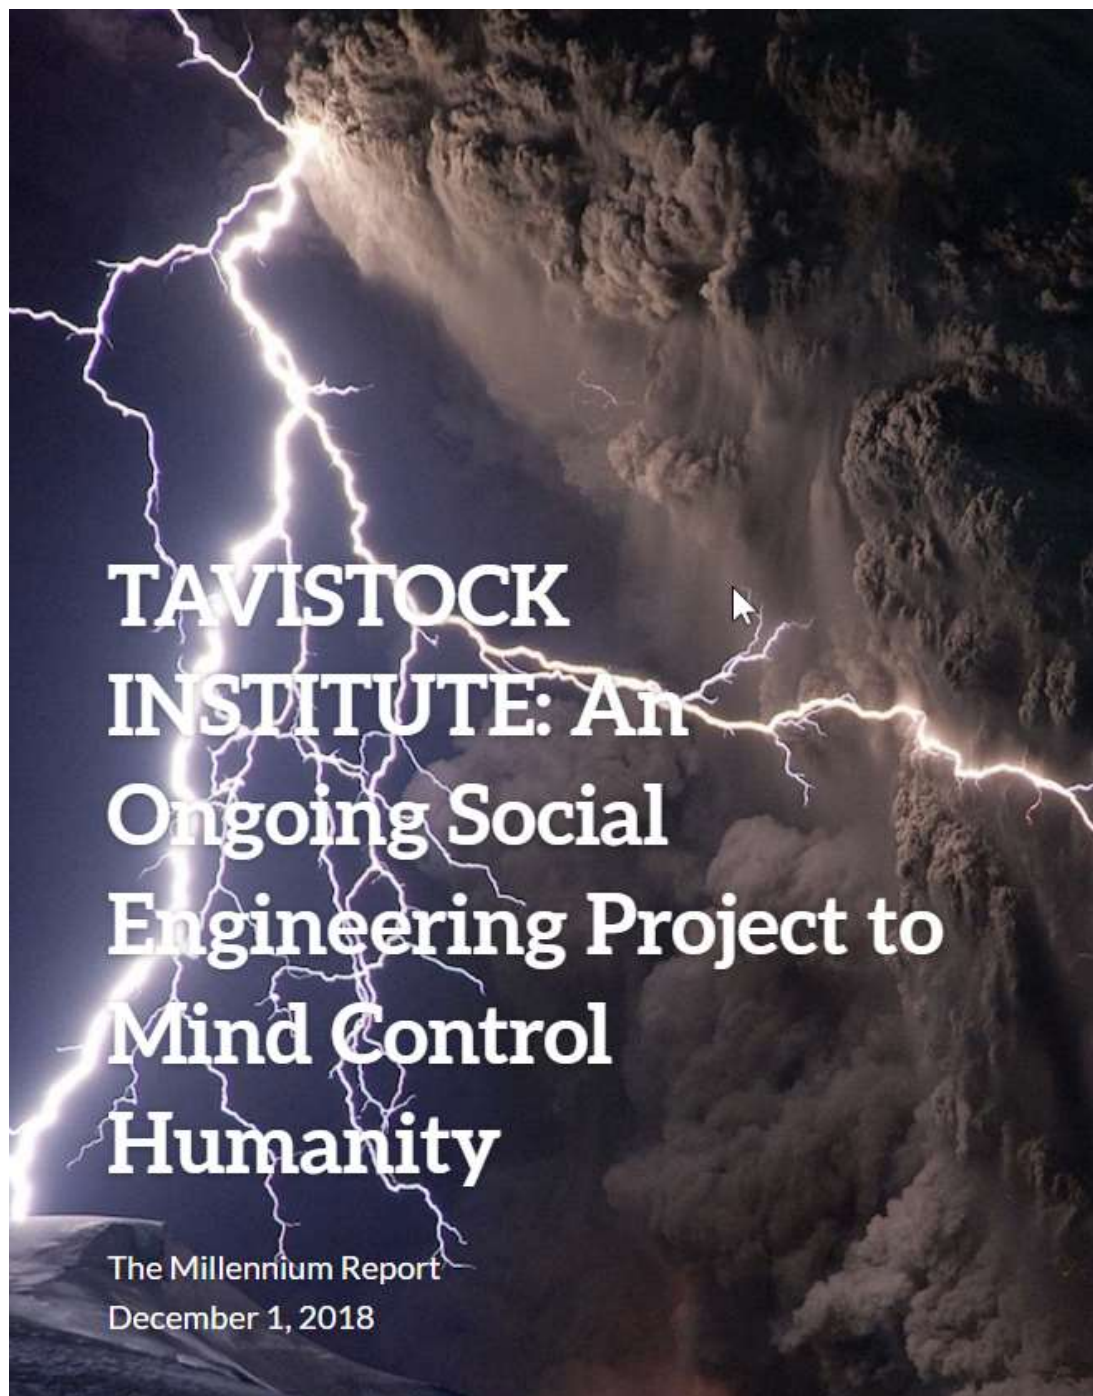

Besides – MK Ultra might have closed down but London's Tavistock Institute picked up where it left off. And Tavistock wasn't doing things by halves – it absolutely declared that it's objective was the mind-control of humanity.

Could it be the 'programming' we've been warned about for so long is much, much more dangerous and controlling than we could ever have imagined?

Can it be that NOW is the time the 'people'/monsters of this world that have been 'doing' it to us have decided that NOW is the time to push the button and eradicate 95% of the useless eaters on this world, turn those of us who are left into mindless zombies so we'll continue to satisfy their needs – until we're individually deemed to be not cost-efficient and replaced for new models?

Can it be that for those who have succumbed to these electronic devices they're joined at the hip to for ALL of their day that it's TOO LATE?

So, what's the point of this screed?

Well, have a read of the meme I received ...

The Agent Smith Effect

In the movie, The Matrix, Agent Smith has the ability to enter any body, at any time, and that often happens when the Matrix is threatened by Neo. This senario is a reflection of our real world. For example, you're having a conversation with a friend and everything is fine until you mention something like, "9/11 was an inside job". Now watch what happenes, up pops Agent Smith, to replace the person you were just having a conversation with to attack you because all truths threaten the Matrix.

Most people have had the Agent Smith Matrix programming since birth. These programmed people become the guardians of the Matrix, protectors of the code. The police of mind control and enforcers of the indoctrination which holds together our false concept of reality like super glue.

THE MIND UNLEASHED
UNCOVER YOUR TRUE POTENTIAL

THE MIND UNLEASHED
UNCOVER YOUR TRUE POTENTIAL

And this is what I got thinking.

Imagine that the reason so many people appear to be brain-dead is actually because they ARE brain-dead.

Look, a big statement, especially when you're thinking about relatives or your children, but whether you like it or not even blind Freddie will see those who aren't 'awake' by now are NEVER going to be.

Not unless there's a major cataclysmic event happen that wakes them up – (and, for the more informed among us, consider that maybe soon there could be).

The common line now is 'look, I've done my best with these f-tards and it's cost me big time' – I've lost friends/family over this and nothing I do will wake them up.

I've had it.

FUKEM – I'm getting on with my life and they can do the best with theirs and I feel sorry for their kids - or similar.

But I bet it sounds familiar.

So, here's my take on this – and I've experienced everything described so far.

Imagine the 'Agent Smith' effect is not only real but worse than we imagined.

Consider that the 'programming' we've been subjected to, (and we ALL have, all of our lives), is worse than we thought.

Consider these people are literally programmed and brain-dead. The only difference between them and the zombies in the movies is they don't LOOK like the zombies in the movies. They're Manchurian Candidates and look and act normal – until they're 'triggered'.

But, somehow, not YOU – or you wouldn't be reading this.

Consider this, are you the type of people who turned away from TV, Movies, MSM, Mobile Phones, computers, magazines. Are you a person who only buys items you NEED not pretty stuff you had to go and buy because you saw an advert on MSM somewhere?

Are the 'others' the sort of people who ARE likely to be described above?

Consider this, somehow, more by luck than judgement the 'program' didn't get to you – and turn you into a mind-controlled zombie.

(BTW, has anyone noticed the plethora of 'Zombie', 'Vampire', and 'Devil/Lucifer/satan' stuff that's trying to be normalised).

Along with these the trans-everything is becoming almost compulsory these days.

All part of the 'program'?

Have a look at this video explanation of how TV is literally designed to broadcast at a frequency that hypnotises watchers into submission.

Method of embedding suggestions over high-definition television

Today with HD-TV High Definition Digital Television which allows a far greater amount of information in order to transmit Silent Sound Spread Spectrum or SSSS.

This once secret Pentagon psychotronic technology has been operational since 1990. In 1991, it was used during the first Gulf War to manipulate Iraqi troops into surrendering en-masse.

Like compliant children, 200,000 men came out of their desert bunkers and fell to their knees before approaching US troops.

The SSSS can be transmitted on both high-definition digital television HD-TV or any digital streaming video which allows any person with a personal computer linked to the Internet to access and watch popular television programs.

This is available for free through companies such as Hulu. In this way, computer monitors and HD-TV screens broadcast SSSS and combine it with subliminally-pulsed images to bring about specific emotions and physical responses to all listeners or a selected type of DNA (Blacks, Orientals, women, etc.).

If a sample of a person's DNA is obtained, it can even target selected individuals. Experimentation has shown that it is effective – with varying levels of efficiency – with about 85% of the population, while the remaining 15% seem to be immune to such mind control attempts.

What we see on television and the realities created by the actors of entertainment, suggests to the subconscious mind possible realities.

Although the conscious mind negates unacceptable realities, the subconscious accepts all without judgement.

The power of suggestion should never be underestimated in how it can affect our lives. It is important to know that each one of us is connected to a global collective consciousness, and that collectively we create an "agreed upon reality" that we experience.

Disturbing things that happen in the world continue as we give our consent for them to continue, as we are made to believe they are necessary and that there is no other option.

Know that these control elements of the mainstream media have invested greatly into psychologically "engineering consent" of the masses through their 'medium' to believe certain actions are necessary,

Therefore, if you see anything in the media that you do not wish to give your consent to, instead evoke your personal power and authority and mentally and or vocally exclaim something to the effect that "I DO NOT CONSENT TO THAT".

The more people do that, the less support for that reality in the collective consciousness all of us are connected to holographically share, and therefore the support for that reality in the collective is diminished.

.... and

Having enslaved humanity with vaccines & nanotechnology - any energy could be transmuted and placed into someone's body to accomplish their tasks.

Using humanity as an endless energy source by keeping the population in a negative energy state.

Infiltrating through each facet of Government and Businesses, through the education systems, newspapers, televisions, movies, advertisements, sports bars, alcohol, restaurants, games, entertainment centers and so on.

Using nanites via wireless transmissions controlling people via their cell phones, mirrors, electronics, televisions, laptops they were able to control the people to the highest level.

Conclusion ...

Sadly, this conclusion isn't a good result particularly if these people are/were close to you or family.

You may even have originally given birth to them, created them.

The conclusion is that the people who've succumbed to the 'program' already are GONE.

And, maybe, there's no coming back for them.

Imagine going to your favourite local coffee shop with a friend and talking about recent events.

Once you show them the Canadian Government couldn't produce virus data for COVID-19.

Further, you show them how masks don't work, the side of the box says It isn't effective against COVID-19.

What you don't realise is that you've just 'triggered' their in-built mind-control program.

This is achieved through the CERN portals located under the coffee shop, cell phones and nearby electrical signals.

This puts up a cognitive dissonance roadblock via nanotechnology inside their thought patterns.

Suddenly, imperceptibly, up pops up The Agent Smith, aka The AI in the Draconian Matrix Slave Ship.

They're now 'disconnected' and the Ai takes over, with one objective.

It has to close you down.

You are no longer talking to a cognitive human – you are talking to a programmed robot and despite all the available data, some have been taken completely over by the Ai signal - without a spark or source, there is nothing but the machine you interact with

Even if they appear to come round, you'll never be able to trust them into the future – if they're susceptible to the mind-control, it means that they're a long-term liability and unreliable.

And, it seems, that this could represent up to about 60% of the 'human' population of earth.

For them, there is NO solution or magic-bullet.

It turns out, these people was ALWAYS lost to us - it just needed the last couple of years for them to identify themselves.

You will NEVER wrest their mobile phones out of their cold dead hands, drag them away from the mindless TV, sport, idol worship, drugs, alcohol, gambling, pornography, paedophilia, social media ... the list goes on.

So stop trying to 'save' them – it's soul destroying and has a danger that the program might be able to enrol YOU into their mindless existence.

Those that can be 'saved' already are – those that aren't are lost.

If you now realise that someone you're talking to has succumbed to the 'Agent Smith' effect – RUN.

Sorry, you may love them – you may even have created them and feel responsible in some way.

But, like a drug addict, they're not 'THERE' for you – despite appearances.

And unless there's some kind of miracle event that will save them, they're gone.

But you knew that.

Don't be concerned for them – they're actually not in any pain. They know, all they have to do is whatever they're told and someone else will worry about their future and that of their families.

For as long as they have value.

And if they're not happy about their 'lot' in life it must be because they voted in the 'wrong' government – no problem, they'll just vote for the other lot next time – that'll fix it.

If you're NOT in the Matrix, thank any God you choose to believe in that you, for some reason, was spared. It appears, at this stage, to be luck of the draw. Seems the coin, for you, landed the right way up.

Or maybe there's more to this selection process.

Why you?

No idea.

Consider though, that 'There Ain't No Such Thing As A Free Lunch' (TANSTAAFL) and, at some stage of the future, you WILL be called on to earn your place in the new universe you're about to become aware of and participate in

The universe will certainly have more in store for you and you'll need to pay for a ticket in some way to earn your spot in it.

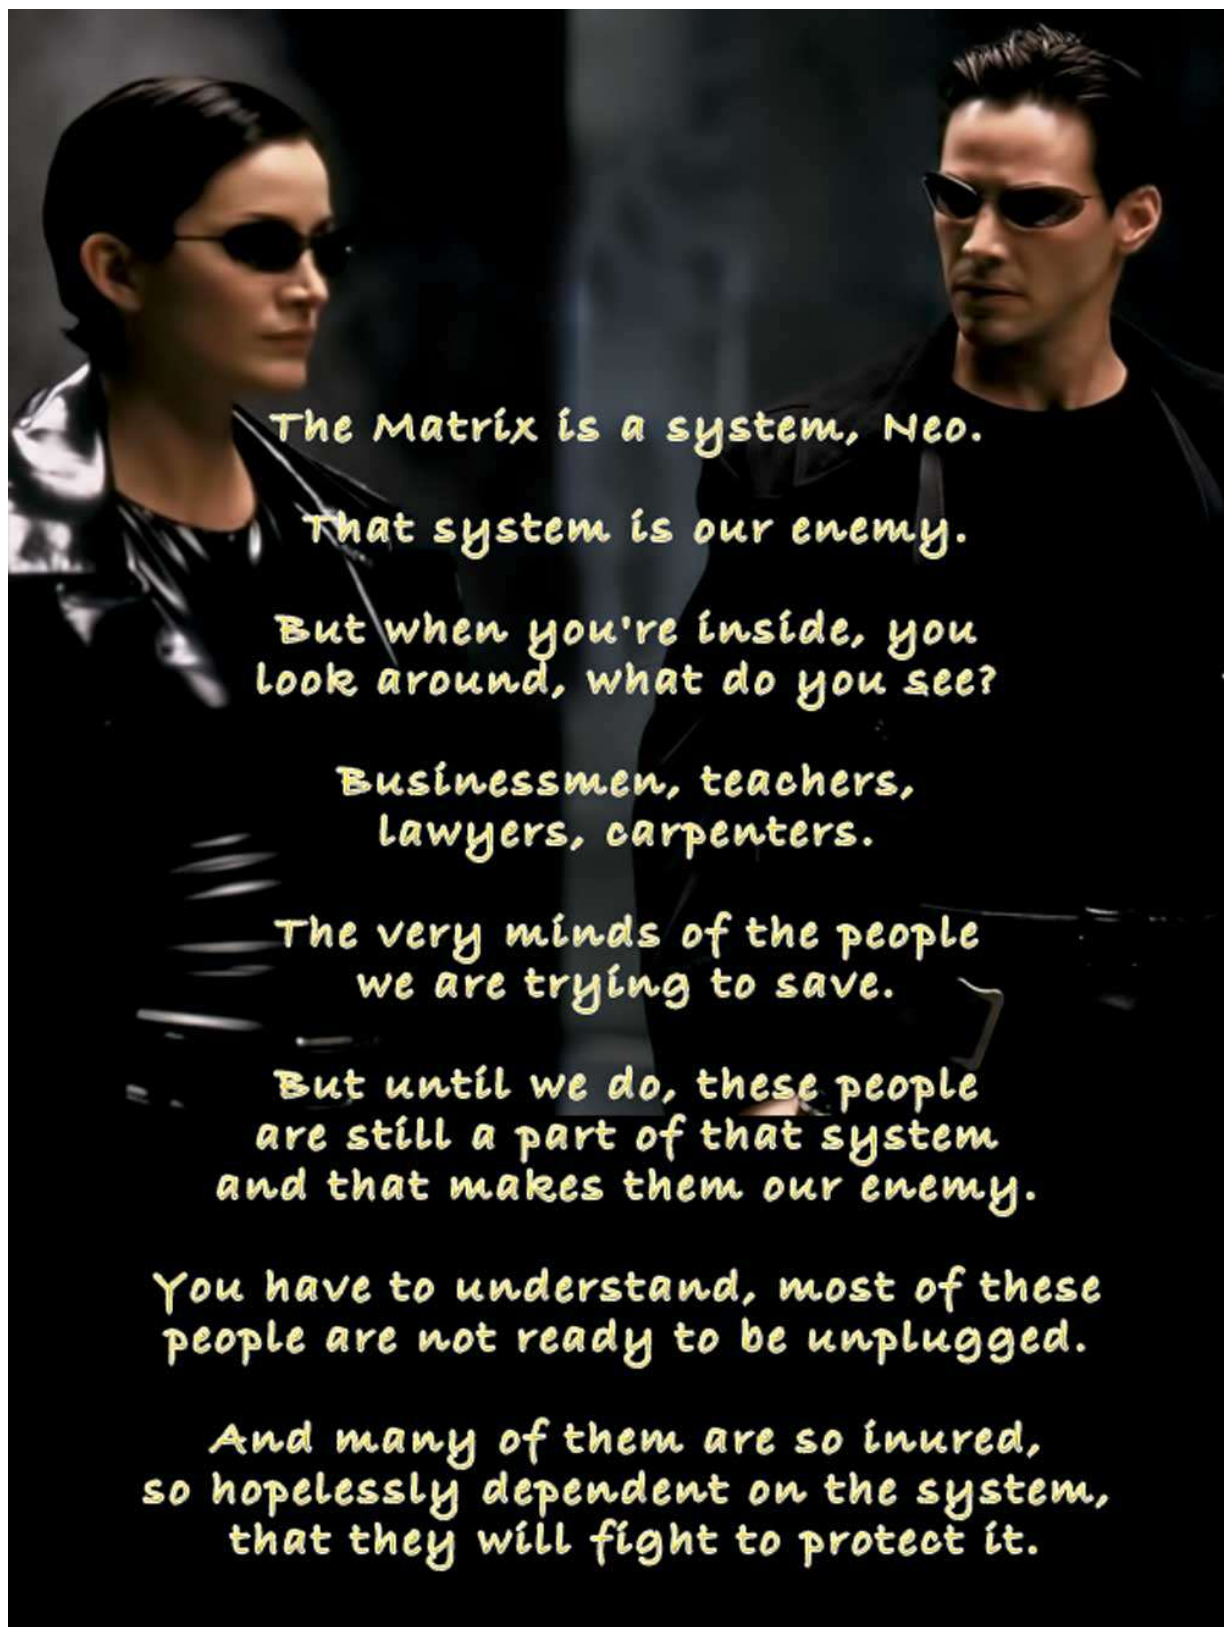

And being a brain-dead zombie isn't going to cut it.

But give the Universe a hand because it won't stop you if you ultimately capitulate and CHOOSE (CONSENT) to being sucked in to the Matrix - protect yourself and find others like you, (who are also identifying themselves if you look for them), to share your future with.

And in the meantime

... good health, always

The Matrix is a system, Neo.

That system is our enemy.

But when you're inside, you look around, what do you see?

Businessmen, teachers, lawyers, carpenters.

The very minds of the people we are trying to save.

But until we do, these people are still a part of that system and that makes them our enemy.

You have to understand, most of these people are not ready to be unplugged.

And many of them are so inured,
so hopelessly dependent on the system,
that they will fight to protect it.

... this rabbit hole is much, much deeper than you could ever have imagined
... let's go down it together
